

The Sentinel.

LEWIS GREEN,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

TERMS PER YEAR, 2.00.

Thursday, July 7, 1884.

DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT,
GROVER CLEVELAND,
OF NEW YORK.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
THOS. A. HENDRICKS,
OF INDIANA.

Democratic District Ticket.
For Common Pleas Judge,
JOHN S. FRIESNER.

FOR CONGRESS,
J. H. OUTWHAITE.

FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE,
SAMUEL W. COURTRIGHT,
WILLIAM H. SAFFORD,
SAMUEL F. STEELE.

Democratic County Ticket.

For Clerk of Court
Arthur McCourtney
For Probate Judge
William T. Acker
For County Treasurer
John Nottelone
For County Commissioner
John T. Nutter
For County Surveyor
James W. Davis
For Infirmary Director
Andrew Wright

Democratic State Ticket.

SECRETARY OF STATE,
JAMES W. NEWMAN,
OF Scioto County.
SUPREME JUDGE,
CHARLES D. MARTIN,
OF Fairfield County.
BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS,
J. H. BENFER,
OF Tuscarawas County.

The Monrovia, telegrapher on an independent paper, published at Pomory, seeks fresh blood, and comes out in favor of Cleveland and Hendricks.

Judge Groghan has been placed on the State Greenback ticket as a candidate for Supreme Judge. The question is will Judge Groghan vote with the Greenbackers this fall, for Ben Butler? If not, will the party in this county, which he largely sided to organize, vote for him?

Florence Nightingale, the heroine of the Crimean war, in a letter to the New York Herald, on the subject of cholera, urges that the great and only preventative is cleanliness. She insists that houses, yards, alleys and streets be kept clean, and frequently be infected by white wash coppers, etc.

The advice is deserving of attention from our citizens and the Board of Health.

How About This?
The Zanesville Advocate, the State organ of the Greenback party, published by John T. Shryock, Greenback candidate for Congress in his District publishes this:

"Blaine, it is said, has an interest of $50,000 in the Syndicate that is now supplanting the miners with imported Italians. Thus it would seem how Blaine the representative of the Republican party favors the working classes and miners, by driving them out of employment, to give place to cheap labor of the very worst type."

The paper also hoists the name of James R. Groghan of Logan, as the Greenback candidate for Supreme Judge.

Now Bro. Shryock, suppose that your candidate, Judge Groghan, declares his intention to vote for Blaine. What are you going to do about it? What will you Greenbackers do about it?

The following is clipped from the July number of the Ohio Educational Monthly, will show what another of our Hocking county boys is doing: "Albert Leonard has been elected Superintendent of schools at New Holland, O., at a salary of $90 per month. His first year in that position just closed, and has been attended with very gratifying success."

Col. Sam. Shaffer of North America, the champion newspaperman of the country, was in the city yesterday. Col. Sam. will not take an option on the strike, nor will he buy out the syndicate.

KENO!

The Republican Convention.

A FULL TICKET.

Full Report of Proceedings.

The Republican Convention met in the Opera House, Frank Keno, Governor of the Syndicate Province of Ward, presiding as Chairman, and the late postmaster, Case, acting as Secretary. After the hat had been passed, a collection for room rent secured, we obtained leave to enter the sacred conclave. Capt. Clowe was making a motion that the delegates present be considered as delegates and cast the vote of those not present.

Gov. Keno thought there ought to be a committee on credentials to discover who is present and who absent.

After some able discussion on this ponderous proposition, Capt. Clowe's motion was carried.

Gov. Keno then announced that nominations for candidates was in order.

LORENZO DOW VICKERS, the excruciating Columbian orator from Vinton, unlimbered his legs, and tuning his voice to the cricket note, spoke as follows:

VICKERS' SPEECH.
Gentlemen of the Convention—It is our duty to-day in nominating a candidate for Probate Judge, to select a candidate who is not only a man of intelligence and good character, but he must be a man who is well known acquainted to have his merits known to the county. Above all, he must, to be a fit man for Probate Judge, be a lawyer. The duties of the office are such that the officer must be a lawyer to discharge those duties to the best interests of the public. Such a person as I nominate is a candidate possessing those essential qualifications. He is an intelligent, high-toned gentleman. He is a man known to the public of the county. He is a lawyer. I nominate for Probate Judge, Hon. Robt. F. Price of Logan.

Loud cheering from the town kids.

A PARALYZER.

Then arose the elephantine arduousness of Keno. He drew from his pocket a huge roll of manuscript and began to cough and snort like a horse with the heaves. Senator Jess Butin drew forth from his pocket a miniature coffin enclosing the image of a man talked to death, and nessed it around among the boys. Gen. Lloyd Myers reclined on the chairs and closed his eyes. Dr. DeStiguer felt his own pulse. Capt. Clowe held his breath. Vickers tied his legs into a knot. The old moss backs opened their eyes and mouths and gaped as though in a circus when the elephant comes out and pretends he is going to stand on his head.

In the meantime Keno read. His remarks were in Italian or Congo—at any rate he could not be understood. We are led to believe that he spoke of his distinction as a correspondent of the Gazette, in which he defended the Syndicate; that Frank Wheeler has the most money for a campaign; that the old Republicans must be retired; and that the kids should be kept back; and that he alone should handle the State of Ward, and he was the boss of the Convention. He nominated Rev. Benj. Brierly for Probate Judge—the strong points in his favor being that he was unknown and hence not unpopular. He was not a lawyer, and thus inviting the opposition of Vickers.

He was a preacher and could save time and money by issuing license and marrying all in one job.

The effect of his reading upon the Convention was truly paralyzing. Those who were not asleep were stunned. Even Capt. Clowe who lost no opportunity to make a few able remarks, lost his breath and was silent.

In the midst of the stupor, the editor of the Gazette, whose office adjoints, rushed upon the scene, hatless and in his shirt sleeves. He wore rubber bands around his arms to keep down the throbbing pulsations of his muscles whilst editing the Rock House arrivals, which lengthy and intellectual labor we learn delayed him from an earlier appearance, and withdrew him the next moment from the Convention. He is observed not to wear that leather band around his head, which has been the immortal custom of the editors of the Gazette to wear when engaged in editorial work in order to keep the expanding ideas from bursting the skull.

The intellect holding head-band was parolined by Charley Sain, and is now worn by him whilst engaged in reading the postal cards in the post-office.

Bro. Willard nervously shook Secretary Case and asked him a question. The insensible Secretary roused up, slapped his horse head as though a hair had sprouted or a thought had struck him, and again relapsed into faintness on the table, burying his face in the pile of Keno's manuscript.

After a time the Convention shook itself up, when it was discovered that Capt. Clowe was occupying Gov. Keno's chair, evidently his intention being to hold the chair when he was not speaking, and thus keep himself before the Convention. He finally got up and invited the Governor to be seated, and retiring to the back of the hall, so his voice would have the longest throw, said, "I second that motion."

The kids held a hurried consultation. In the meantime the Secretary was pointing out the post-office men and giving the chair positions.

Vickers took the floor, and in the greatest effort of his life, said that he did not withdraw his remarks, but withdrew Bob Price. The point evidently being that Vickers thought more of his remarks than he did of his candidate.

A BIG UNDER THE CHIP.

Nominations for Clerk were called. Dr. DeStiguer moved that no nominations be made for this office, arguing that if the Republicans wished to be successful they must concentrate on one or two men. Lloyd Myers vigorously objected to this. He wanted a full ticket nominated. He did not see that it helped the Republican party to elect one man. He wanted the party to keep in line. He wanted the name said. He wanted a full ticket and a full Republican vote.

The impressive Keno sided with Myers. He did not want any side show, did not want the party to be run for one man. He wanted a full ticket and a solid Republican vote.

Dr. DeStiguer asked, "How often have you elected a full ticket?" After further wrangling, the question on making a full ticket was adopted.

Dr. DeStiguer nominated Lloyd Myers. Myers objected. He did not want a good man put on the ticket and elected. There is nothing accomplished by electing one man on the ticket. DeStiguer, can't you think then of some good man? Dr. DeStiguer said, "I don't know of any kind."

Foller was nominated by acclamation. El West was announced by Vickers and seconded by Clowe, and nominated without opposition.

Longworth for Commissioner, and with-out giving Uncle John Welton, who had announced his name in the paper as a candidate, a chance to be nominated, Longworth was rushed through. Mr. Welton will bolt the Convention.

Dr. DeStiguer announced the name of L. C. Allison for Infirmary Director, and he was nominated by acclamation. A wrangle then ensued over the appointment of delegates to Congressional Convention. Vickers wanted them selected by the Convention; Clowe wanted them chosen by the Central Committee. In discussing this, Clowe said, he discovered a ring in this town that wanted to run things and that side issues (was run into the Convention).

Dr. DeStiguer, Myers and Vickers declined knowing anything about side issues of post-office.

Vickers presented the following list of delegates, which on Nov. 23 to 14, were chosen: C. W. Clowe, Dr. DeStiguer, F. Case, Aaron Moore, Ned Woot, Joshua Jackson, O. Booth.

Keno then asked that three cheers be given for Blaine, the man who says he put $12,500 into a pool to organize the Syndicate, and the Convention adjourned—advice in the midst of the shouting of Longworth was rushed through. Mr. Welton will bolt the Convention.

Dr. DeStiguer, Myers and Vickers declined knowing anything about side issues of post-office.

Vickers presented the following list of delegates, which on Nov. 23 to 14, were chosen: C. W. Clowe, Dr. DeStiguer, F. Case, Aaron Moore, Ned Woot, Joshua Jackson, O. Booth.

Keno then asked that three cheers be given for Blaine, the man who says he put $12,500 into a pool to organize the Syndicate, and the Convention adjourned—advice in the midst of the shouting of Longworth was rushed through. Mr. Welton will bolt the Convention.

Dr. DeStiguer, Myers and Vickers declined knowing anything about side issues of post-office.

Vickers presented the following list of delegates, which on Nov. 23 to 14, were chosen: C. W. Clowe, Dr. DeStiguer, F. Case, Aaron Moore, Ned Woot, Joshua Jackson, O. Booth.

Keno then asked that three cheers be given for Blaine, the man who says he put $12,500 into a pool to organize the Syndicate, and the Convention adjourned—advice in the midst of the shouting of Longworth was rushed through. Mr. Welton will bolt the Convention.

Dr. DeStiguer, Myers and Vickers declined knowing anything about side issues of post-office.

Vickers presented the following list of delegates, which on Nov. 23 to 14, were chosen: C. W. Clowe, Dr. DeStiguer, F. Case, Aaron Moore, Ned Woot, Joshua Jackson, O. Booth.

Keno then asked that three cheers be given for Blaine, the man who says he put $12,500 into a pool to organize the Syndicate, and the Convention adjourned—advice in the midst of the shouting of Longworth was rushed through. Mr. Welton will bolt the Convention.

Dr. DeStiguer, Myers and Vickers declined knowing anything about side issues of post-office.

Vickers presented the following list of delegates, which on Nov. 23 to 14, were chosen: C. W. Clowe, Dr. DeStiguer, F. Case, Aaron Moore, Ned Woot, Joshua Jackson, O. Booth.

Keno then asked that three cheers be given for Blaine, the man who says he put $12,500 into a pool to organize the Syndicate, and the Convention adjourned—advice in the midst of the shouting of Longworth was rushed through. Mr. Welton will bolt the Convention.

Dr. DeStiguer, Myers and Vickers declined knowing anything about side issues of post-office.

Vickers presented the following list of delegates, which on Nov. 23 to 14, were chosen: C. W. Clowe, Dr. DeStiguer, F. Case, Aaron Moore, Ned Woot, Joshua Jackson, O. Booth.

Keno then asked that three cheers be given for Blaine, the man who says he put $12,500 into a pool to organize the Syndicate, and the Convention adjourned—advice in the midst of the shouting of Longworth was rushed through. Mr. Welton will bolt the Convention.

Dr. DeStiguer, Myers and Vickers declined knowing anything about side issues of post-office.

Vickers presented the following list of delegates, which on Nov. 23 to 14, were chosen: C. W. Clowe, Dr. DeStiguer, F. Case, Aaron Moore, Ned Woot, Joshua Jackson, O. Booth.

Keno then asked that three cheers be given for Blaine, the man who says he put $12,500 into a pool to organize the Syndicate, and the Convention adjourned—advice in the midst of the shouting of Longworth was rushed through. Mr. Welton will bolt the Convention.

Dr. DeStiguer, Myers and Vickers declined knowing anything about side issues of post-office.

Vickers presented the following list of delegates, which on Nov. 23 to 14, were chosen: C. W. Clowe, Dr. DeStiguer, F. Case, Aaron Moore, Ned Woot, Joshua Jackson, O. Booth.

Keno then asked that three cheers be given for Blaine, the man who says he put $12,500 into a pool to organize the Syndicate, and the Convention adjourned—advice in the midst of the shouting of Longworth was rushed through. Mr. Welton will bolt the Convention.

Dr. DeStiguer, Myers and Vickers declined knowing anything about side issues of post-office.

Vickers presented the following list of delegates, which on Nov. 23 to 14, were chosen: C. W. Clowe, Dr. DeStiguer, F. Case, Aaron Moore, Ned Woot, Joshua Jackson, O. Booth.

people of Buffalo are proud of the record he has made of Mayor of the city and as Chief Magistrate of the State. While we earnestly support the candidate of our party for President of the United States, we would not detract one jot or tittle from the well earned fame of the distinguished gentleman who honors the opposition by being its standard.

We submit to the decent and intelligent community if the Republican-Gazette is justifiable in this course, surrounded as it is with the recent Post-office dirt, and in opposition to the spirit of Cleveland's home Republican papers, to open its columns and parade with affected virtuous indignation the lie told by a paper which charged Garfield with being a cow thief, and is now in the hands of a Receiver, because of the money it had to pay for defaming the character of one of the most honored educators of the West.

We hope, in the language of a distinguished man in the East, "the dogs will be called off." If not, the Republican-Gazette may be eaten up.

Card of Thanks.

The friends and relatives of Mr. John Short, deceased, desire thus publicly to return thanks to neighbors and friends for kind and constant attention during his last illness.

Mr. George Strong of south eastern Missouri, is visiting his brother-in-law, Aaron Price, in Logan this week.

Judge Friesner lost a valuable cow last Sunday, poisoned by eating buckeyes.

Judge John S. Brasee, of Lancaster, was in the city Tuesday attending to Legal business.

Mr. John Allen, of Maxville, and a worthy citizen of that locality, has been severely sick for some time.

Judge Silas H. Wright, of Lancaster, visited in Logan on last Tuesday.

Miss Linnie Kennard of McArthur and Miss Florence Culbertson of Indiana, are visiting in Logan, the guests of Miss Laura Hamer.

Monday morning, Mrs. Isaac Stiers suddenly fell, dislocating her right shoulder joint. Dr. Campbell was called and reduced the dislocation.

The Misses McBride, Miss Wynn, Judge Friesner and family, and Mr. Green and family, attended the picnic festival at St. Joseph's, Perry county, on Wednesday.

Mr. E. P. Kilgore, of Columbus, is visiting his many friends in Logan this week.

Alexander McClurg's Estate. The undersigned has been appointed qualified executor of the estate of Alexander McClurg, late of Hocking county, deceased. JAMES CONAWAY, Executor.

TRUSTEES' SALE.—OR—REAL ESTATE.

PERSONAL PROPERTY.

We will offer for sale at public auction on Wednesday, September 24, 1884, at 1 o'clock, P. M., upon the premises of John Karpsh, deceased, late of Salt Creek township, Hocking county, Ohio, the following real estate situated in the county of Hocking, State of Ohio, described as follows:

First Tract. A part of the northeast quarter, section nine (9), township eleven (11), range nineteen (19), containing one hundred and twelve (12) acres, more or less, described as follows:

Second Tract. The east half of the northeast quarter of section sixteen (16), township eleven (11), range nineteen (19), and west half of the northeast quarter of section fifteen (15), township eleven (11), range nineteen (19), containing one hundred and seventy-four (174) acres, more or less, described as follows:

Third Tract. The west half of the northeast quarter of section sixteen (16), township eleven (11), range nineteen (19), and west half of the northeast quarter of section fifteen (15), township eleven (11), range nineteen (19), containing one hundred and seventy-four (174) acres, more or less, described as follows:

Fourth Tract. A part of the northeast quarter of section eighteen (18), township twelve (12), range nineteen (19), containing one hundred and twenty-five (125) acres, more or less, described as follows:

Fifth Tract. The west half of the northeast quarter of section sixteen (16), township eleven (11), range nineteen (19), and west half of the northeast quarter of section fifteen (15), township eleven (11), range nineteen (19), containing one hundred and seventy-four (174) acres, more or less, described as follows:

Sixth Tract. And also the south half of the southwest quarter and a part of the north half of the southwest quarter of section (7) seven, township twelve (12), range nineteen (19), and a part of the north half of the southwest quarter of section thirteen (13), township twelve (12), range nineteen (19), containing one hundred and fifty-six (156) acres, more or less, described as follows:

Terms of Sale. One-third cash; one-third in one year and one-third in two years from day of sale, with interest. Debit payments to be secured by mortgage on lands sold.

And we will also sell at the same time and place, twenty (20) acres of land, situated in Salt Creek Valley Township.

Terms of Sale of Personal Property. A credit of six months will be given by purchaser of the land with approved security.

NELSON KARPHER, DANIEL KARPHER, Trustees of the estate of John Karpsh, deceased. July 4, 1884—5w

Legal Notice in Divorce.

John P. Brooks, whose place of residence is unknown, will take notice, that on the 28th day of July, A. D. 1884, he filed his petition against the said John P. Brooks, praying a divorce from said John P. Brooks, on the grounds of desertion, and asking custody of their child, John Brooks, Jr.; for alimony; and that she may be restored to her maiden name, Elizabeth Chark. Said cause will be for hearing on and after the first day of next term of Court, November 12, 1884.

ELIZABETH BROOKS.

O. W. H. Wright, her Atty. July 31, 1884—5w

Christiana Confor's Estate.

The undersigned has been appointed and qualified administrator of the estate of Christiana Confor, late of Hocking county, deceased.

JACOB ROADS, Administrator. August 7—5w

William Mitchell's Estate.

The undersigned has been appointed and qualified as administrator of the estate of William Mitchell, late of Hocking county, deceased.

ADAM BROWN, Administrator. July 31—5w

WIT AND HUMOR.

When Winters breeze Denudes the trees And nature sets a downy freeze; When round the door The wild winds roar And cold comes through the cracked old floor Our friends forget to shut the door.—Old City Bazaar.

Eliza, Ill., has a butter ring. Next thing we know we shall hear of a napkin ring, or dinner-bell ring.

Teacher—"What happens when a light falls into the water at an angle of forty-five degrees?" Pupil—"It goes out."—Der Schalk.

"The city must put its foot down on such corruption," shrieks an excited contemporary. But it can't, you know, Corporations have no souls.—Life.

A woman in San Francisco has been appointed to the position of conductor on a line of horse-cars. At last the "dream of a woman" is realized.

Leap year is a good time to engrave indelibly upon the hearts of the young men that much misery is caused by not giving "no" at the right time.—Buffalo Express.

At the coming leap-year ball some of the ladies propose to turn a live mouse loose in the room. It is a poor, timid gentleman jump up on the chairs and squeal.

A Nashville man was fined $800 for taking a school-teacher to a hotel. It had been for two or three of the scholars who caught them that it should not have charged him a cent.

A burglar who has climbed up to a garret window on a ladder is startled by a voice shouting, "Hello, there, what do you want?" "May I ask you for a gentleman?" he inquired.

When a young woman is in love she turns to the poet's corner first on picking up the local paper. After she is married she turns first to the advertisements of the dry goods stores.

Ladies imagine that roller-skating is a fine way to work off superfluous flesh. The belief seems well founded. One young lady dropped 127 pounds at the ring recently, and dropped it hard.

A sewing-machine agent was recently attacked by a fierce catamount near a house in the mountains. The catamount escaped without buying one of the machines.—Philadelphia Call.

"Sagacious," said Mr. Gripe, "why that dog of mine was the most proud, noble and sagacious dog I ever lived! Why, when anybody was looking he'd pretend not to know me."—Boston Herald.

Patti, they say, is an inveterate onanist. If we have ever said anything against Nicolini, we take it back. How true it is that one-half the world does not know what the other half has to go through with.

"Sometimes I get discouraged," signed Pardon Jones; "for ought I can tell, the man as has had eyes 'forever," he continued, "if they should all become perfect, I don't know what I should do for a living."

They say that the photograph of a Colorado Senator got mixed into a pack of cards in use at a game in Washington and was not noticed for some time. It was playing for the Jack of spades.—Boston Post.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

There is an old man in Clay County, North Carolina, who has borne through ninety years the burden of the name of Alexander Gumbleton Ruffin. He is now a very old man.

THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL FAIR OF THE HOCKING COUNTY Agricultural Society.

9. Exhibitors of matched or double teams must be bona fide owners of both animals, or the premium will not be paid.

10. All protests must be in writing, and filed with the Secretary by 12 o'clock M. of the last day of the Fair.

11. All grains and seeds must be grown by the exhibitor, and must be the product of the current year.

V. GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS.

1. The committeemen are requested to report themselves to the Treasurer at the entrance gate, where